EMAIL, BUT WITH BOUNDARIES

Say bye to what matters, and hey to the rest.

Bye is an email service that decides who gets in, keeps the noise in its own room, and gives you your evenings back. No ads. No tracking. No inbox guilt.

Bye, spam. ✕ Bye, trackers. ✕ Bye, 11pm pings. ✕ Bye, unread badges.

Four small goodbyes that change everything.

Most email apps help you sort the mess. Bye stops the mess from arriving in the first place.

- 01

The Door

First-time senders knock before they come in. Wave them through once, or wave bye forever.
- 02

The Drawer

Receipts, shipping notices and newsletters slide into one quiet drawer you open on your terms.
- 03

Clock-out

Set your hours. After that, Bye holds everything but the people you mark as always-welcome.
- 04

Pixel shield

Hidden tracking pixels are stripped before you open a message, and we tell you who tried.

One honest price. Nothing to sell you.

You pay us, so we never need your data.

Talk to us

Before you wave goodbye...

Can I keep my old address?

Yes. Forward it to Bye and everything still passes through the Door.

What happens to senders I say bye to?

Nothing dramatic. Their mail quietly never reaches you. Change your mind anytime.

Does it work with my other apps?

Bye has apps for [PLATFORMS] and works in any browser.

If I leave, can I take my mail?

Always. Export everything in one click. We are good at goodbyes.
